BRYANTS PLEAD GUILTY

Well-Known Patrons of the Police Court Given Six Months in Jail For Stealing Chickens.

John and Edward Bryant were arrested yesterday by Sergeant Wilkinson and Officers Roland and Smith upon the charge of stealing chickens from Max Sperling, who conducts a grocery store at the corner of Queen and Pitt streets.

The robbery occurred Saturday night, and upon being reported to the police the latter were soon on the tracks of the Bryant brothers It was learned that the negroes had sold the chickens to Schuler Broth, ers on upper King street. The suspected thieves were arrested and the coop containing the chickens taken to the station house.

The accused were brought before the Police Court this morning, and after the evidence had been taken. John alias "Jumbo" Bryant was asked if he had anything to say. He replied "I plead guilty; that's all there is to it." His brother, however, was not so prompt to acknowledge the crime, but "Jumbo" informed the court that both were parties to the theft. Justice Caton sentenced the brothers to serve the next six months in jail.

After the disposition of the case one of the Schuler Brothers asked if there was any way the firm could be reimbursed for their outlay. Justice Caton said, "There is but one way—you must get it out of them."

The Bryants have been before the Police Court at sundry times since they were boys, or during the space of twenty years.

CLARIFYING SITUATION

Attorney General Pollard Says Bachelors Cannot Have Lquor in Their Boarding Houses.

In regard to the possession and transportation of ardent spirits by unmarried men in the city, Attorney-General Pollard has issued the following statement:

Recent publications in the newspapers show a widespread misapprehension as to the alleged ruling of the attorney-general in relation to the rights under the prohibition law of bachelors living in hotels and boarding-houses. The law in this particular does not discriminate against the bachelors; neither bachelors nor married men can have ardent spirits in hotels or boarding houses except transient guests may have one quart, not to be opened or used or given away while in said hotel or boarding-house.

This is no construction placed by the attorney-general on a doubtful provision of the statute, but section 61 of the act expressly says that the word "home" as used in the act "shall not be construed to include a * * * room of a guest in a hotel or boarding-house provided that any transient guest may carry in his baggage for the bona fide use of himself or family not in excess of one quart of ardent spirits, the same not to be opened or used during his stay in said hotel or boarding house."

This is a plain provision of the law and neither the prohibition commissioner nor the attorney-general nor any other officer has any right to change or ignore it.

The law places the enforcement of the prohibition act in the hands of the prohibition commissioner, and I would have nothing to say on the subject if it were not for the fact that many articles are appearing in the newspapers showing a misapprehension of the rulings of this office.

HOUSE EVENLY DIVIDED.

Democrats And Repubicans Each Have 215 Members, According to Cerk's Advance List.

Washington, Jan. 15.—An advance list of members of the next House of Representatives prepared by South Trimble, clerk of the House, gives 215 Democrats, 215 Republicans, two Progressives, one Prohibitionist, one Socialist and one Independent. Republicans, while conceding the accuracy of the list, declares that a final decision that Representative Barchfeld (Republican), of Pennsylvania, had been elected would upset the figures. The name of Representative Barchfeld's opponent is given in the list.

CARRY FIGHT TO WILSON.

Baptists Going to White House to Protest Against Order of Major General Funston.

Norfolk, Jan. 15.—Dr. Calvin S. Blackwell, of the committee named by the Virginia Baptist Convention to protest to President Wilson against the order of Major-General Funston banning evangelical religious meetings in border camps, last night declared that various committees of Baptists, representing several Southern States, will be received at the White House at 3:30 p. m. Dr. Blackwell said that the various committees named by Virginia, Mississippi, Texas, Georgia, and several other States would be received at one time. He declined to deny or affirm the report that the committee would ask an inquiry. The delegation, however, will ask the President, as commander-in-chief of the army, to annul General Funston's order barring evangelical meetings in the army camps.

In Memoriam.

In memory of our baby, Harvey Franklin McDonald, whom God called away six years ago, January 14, 1911.

We shall ne'er forget our darling
Who in his baby beauty died,
The fair sweet flower that bloomed
And faded by our side,
Yes, we miss him, oh! we miss him
When we see his vacant chair
And how sad the home without him
For we have no baby there.

TREASURERS' ACCOUNTS.

Must Settle Annually and Deduct Fees and Commissions as Money is Paid to Them.

Replying to a letter from Auditor Moore, touching the matter of the payments by county and city treasurers and their fees for collections, Attorney General Pollard has sent the following opinion to the auditor for the information of that officer and the information of the treasurers in making their settlements:

"Should a county or city treasurer, in the report which he is required to make under the act of March 27, 1914, as amended by the acts of 1916, include commissions, fees and allowances which relate solely to the final settlements had with me and the board of supervisors, or should they relate to the allowances, fees, commissions, etc., upon collections of revenue, both state and county of two different fiscal years, which he does collect within the calendar year?"

To which inquiry Mr. Pollard replied: "I am of opinion that a county or city treasurer should include commissions, fees and allowances which relate solely to the final settlements had with you and the boards of supervisors in the report which he is required to make under the act of March 27, 1914. Of course, the treasurer is entitled to commissions upon all of his collections, but those commissions should not be reported by the treasurer until his final settlement for the fiscal year in which the taxes were charged and for which he was required to make his settlement. For instance, in the settlement of H. P. Britain, treasurer, Tazewell county, I find that he has reported a statement of his fees, allowances and commissions of $6,416.68 for the month of December, 1916. This amount should not be reported as collected by the treasurer until the end of the fiscal year 1916, to-wit: June 15, 1917, and will, therefore, go in the report required to be made by him in January, 1918.

"Another instance is in the settlement of L. H. Kemp, treasurer of Henrico county, who credits himself with allowances, commissions, etc., for November and December, 1916, amounting to $6,060.45. Of course, the treasurer is entitled to these credits, but they should not be reported until the end of the fiscal year, to-wit.: June 15, 1917, and would get in his January report, 1918. This construction does not prevent, of course, the treasurers from retaining commissioners on his collections, but simply postpones his report until the final settlement of his account when the auditing officers will know exactly what his commissions were and will prevent a great deal of confusion in the auditing of the books of the county and city treasurers."

CONFESSES MURDER.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 15.—Otis Chambers Deegan, 23 years old, who says he is a son of Mayor J. F. Deegan, of Coal Grove, O., last night, according to the police, confessed that he killed George Moore, an employee of the Paragon Coal Company at the plant at Yolyn, W Va., last March. Deegan surrendered himself to the police late last night. He says that Lennie Booth is now serving a term in the penitentiary for the crime. Deegan left Yolyn and went to San Antonio, Texas, where he joined the United States Marine Corps. He wants to go back to Yolyn to stand trial for murder, according to his confession. He says that his brother, O. J. Deegan, is prosecuting attorney of Logan County, of which Yolyn is the county seat.

According to Deegan's confession, the police say, he hated Moore for an interference of his with a young girl of Yolyn. Moore and Booth, he said, were at odds over the latter's divorced wife, and Booth had threatened to kill Moore if he did not let the woman alone. Deegan claims that he shot Moore in front of the Paragon plant the night following an altercation between Moore and Booth, and that Booth was arrested and convicted on circumstantial evidence. Deegan says a second brother of his is president of the Paragon Coal Company.

PEACE HOPE VANISHES TO ARRIVE WEDNESDAY

Berlin Press Bitter Over Entente's Reply, and Says Germany Must Fight on For Defense.

Amsterdam, Jan. 15.—Kaiser Wilhelm's directions to Imperial Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg to prepare the recent German peace note were published today by the North German Gazette. The letter was dated October 31, and, in part, read:

"A peace proposal is necessary to deliver the world—including neutrals—from obsessions. For such an act a ruler is needed with conscience and a feeling of responsibility to God and his own heart. For my own and hostile peoples I will venture it, relying upon God. Please soon give me a note and prepare everything."

Lively appreciation of the Kaiser's defiance to the allies, and acquiescence in his declarations that the entente's refusal of peace shows their "boundless lust of conquest," was expressed in a message from the King of Bavaria to the Kaiser today, according to Munich dispatches.

In part the King's message read:

"Your strong words expressing indignation over our enemies' arrogant reply find a lively echo in all our hearts.

"All the German people share your iron will to break our enemies' presumption—the enemy whose war aims disclose their boundless lust of conquest and desire for our destruction.

"The self-sacrificing heroism of the troops of the empire and of the people will henceforth defy all attacks and lead to victory. May God continue with our just cause."

Berlin, Jan. 15.—Further comment on the note of the Entente Powers to President Wilson lays emphasis on the decisive character of the declarations, which clear the air, the newspaper say, and give the Central Powers a well-defined goal—defense against the plan of their opponents for remaking the map of Europe.

Even Vorwaerts now turns to the Socialist dissenters who have been demanding peace, "without conquerors, without conquered," and says that Germany's enemies are not ready to give such a peace, hence "every deed and every word tending to shake the self-defensive will of the German people would be a crime against the German people."

Vorwaerts says that the terms are such as could be dictated only after the Entente had occupied the chief cities of their opponents and broken hopelessly their power of resistance, and that the note is a new declaration of war, with limitless aims of conquest. It declares the note was intended to frighten the Central Powers into submission, but "the Entente forgets that willingness of the German Government to yield would encounter a barrier in the will of the German people who, after such unspeakable sacrifices and such mighty military successes, would not tolerate without compulsion the placing of Germany in the position of a conquered state. Much as the masses of the German people approve the declaration of the Government that the war aims already have been attained in successful self-defense, they demand none the less that this success be fully maintained."

Referring to Belgium, Vorwaerts says:

"The prospect of reaching an agreement is jeopardized seriously by the crazy demands of the note."

George Bernhard says in the Vossische Zeitung that "one must long turn the pages of modern history to find a more stupid diplomatic document than this note."

"The Entente now is unmasked," he continues, "and everything it says in skillfully playing upon Germany's declaration of war and injustice to Begium weighs light as a feather when compared with the Entente's unveiled plans of dismemberment."

Herr Bernhard further argues that it must be clear to Americans that any American intervention now is rendered impossible. Whoever should come as mediator upon the basis of the Entente's proposals. Herr Bernhard declares, "would confess himself our enemy."

Richmond might well have cheered to the echo that splendid body of soldiers which marched for seven miles through its streets Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The First Virginia Regiment, nine hundred strong, followed by the John Marshall High School Cadets' Battalion, with two hundred and fifty men in line, presented a martial appearance, marching like veterans.

Despite the chill, the parade was a success. The First Virginia Regiment, an organization of nine hundred well trained men, hardened by the experience of border service, alike to apathetic throngs and chilled atmospheres, made a showing no regulars could excell. The soldiers wore their service uniforms of khaki and over that wore comfortable army overcoats.

It was an admirable showing that both troops and cadets made, a showing deserving of frequent demonstrations of enthusiastic applause.

GROUNDLESS REPORT

Careful inquiry made among the members of the Virginia delegation in Washington belonging to what is sometimes termed the "orgnization" faction has failed to disclose any trace of a war council to be held this or next week, according to an article published in a Richmond paper about a week ago.

On the contrary Senators Martin and Swanson and Congressmen Flood Watson, Carlin, Saunders, Holland and Harrison, whom the article said were to meet and decide on the State candidates for office the organization would back, emphatically deny that there was ever any intention of holding such a "war council."

"The product of a vivid and willing imagination" was the way Congressman Floyd characterized the article, saying he had never heard of such a meeting being called, and is inclined to believe no such meeting will be called.

"Perfect bosh; why, there's nothing to it at all," said Senator Swanson. "The Virginia people can look after elections for their own State offices without any help from us."

The article which aroused resentment in Washington stated that all the members of the Virginia delegation except Congressmen Glass, Montague and Jones, who compose the so-called anti-organization faction would attend a "war council" to clear up the muddled state of affairs existing with respect to coming contests for the State offices.

The Virginians at the capital whom the article referred to consider it an attempt to create the impression that all State office elections are dictated from Washington by the "organization." There has never been a condition like this, they say, and such a condition does not exist now.

"There has been absolutely no discussion of the State convention," said Congressman Watson, "The fact is that the public business in Congress at the short session is so pressing, that the Virginia Representatives have found too little time to even consider State issues at home."

COMFORTING FORECAST.

That the war now raging in Europe was foretold, 2,500 years ago in the word of God, and as victory for Germany; that England will go down and America will be invaded by a confederation of European kings, with Germany dominating, were statements of R. O. Alexander, an orator, of Charlotte, N. C., in speaking at Poli's Theatre, Washington yesterday. Mr. Alexander drew his deductions from the book of Daniel, the seventh chapter of which he read down to the ninth verse.

The speaker dwelt on the invasion of this country, which, he said, would have a disastrous effect for a while, but that would terminate in a clean-cut victory for America. The invasion and threatened devastation, he said, will be the work of God as punishment meted out because "America has turned away from him."

The high cost of living, which is not local, but world-wide, is also explained in the Bible, according to Mr. Alexander. Before the high cost of food is over wheat will be $4 and $5 a bushel he said.

As stated above, Mr. Alexander read the first eight verses of the seventh chapter of the book of Daniel upon which he based his opinions. It is unfortunate that he stopped where he did, as the verses which follow should bring joy to every believer if his deductions are correct. We quote the verses 9, 10, 13 and 14, which show the Kingdom of heaven is at hand:

And I beheld until the thrones were cast down, and the Ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hairs of his head like the pure wool; his throne was like the fiery flames and his wheels as burning fire.

A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set and the books opened.

I saw in the night vision, and behold one like unto the Son of Man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.

And there was given him dominion, that all people, nations and languages should serve him; his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

SPREAD OF CONSUMPTION.

That the war in Europe has resulted in a heavy increase in consumption, and that with the restoration of peace and the revival of immigration to the United States this country faces the danger of receiving great number of foreigners, every one of whom may carry at least the seeds of tuberculosis, was the substance of startling statements made at a meeting of trustees of the National Jewish Home for Consumptives, held yesterday in Baltimore. Dr. Alfred Meyer, of New York, whose research work is internationally known to tuberculosis specialists said:

"When Ambassador Gerard returned recently from Berlin he told a friend of mine that since the war began there had been an increase of 300 per cent. in the number of tubercular patients in Germany. The same thing is true in France, where thousands of soldiers, made tubercular victims by the war, are slowly dying at home. In Belgium there has been a 100 per cent. increase in attendance at tuberculosis clinics, and the prevalence of tuberculosis glands in Belgian children has increased from 5 to 10 times."

There are now 10 times as many victims of tuberculosis coming from other countries to live in America as there were in 1914 according to immigration officials. And after the war there may be at least the seeds of tuberculosis in every immigrant landing at Ellis Island, so prevalent has the disease become in Europe.

WORLD DRY WHEN WAR ENDS

"I expect the whole world to be as dry as a bone, of alcohol, about the time the big war ends," said Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, at the Fifth Baptist Church, at E and 6 1-2 streets southwest, Washington, yesterday.

"Russia is as dry as a bone now, and France is getting dry. England is at the point of going dry. Alcohol has made almost as much trouble for the allies as the Germans, and huge quantities of grain are being destroyed to make alcohol, when it is needed for food."

Dr. Wiley said he was originally opposed to prohibition because it meant dictating to people what they could drink, but that he discovered that people would eat anything and poison themselves if they were not dictated to, and that it was no worse to dictate what they should drink, from the standpoint of the common good.

"I don't fear the temptation of drink any longer myself," he said, "but I dread my two boys having to withstand the temptation of drink, and I would make any sacrifice to see all boys freed from this temptation."

PERCH PLANTED IN POTOMAC.

Occoquan Creek Also Shares in Governmental Distribution of 137,000,000 Fry—Will Increase Shad.

More than 137,000,000 fine yellow perch fry were planted in streams tributary to the Potomac extending from Broad Creek, Md., to Occoquan Creek, Va., last spring, according to the annual report of the Commissioner of Fisheries, just issued.

In advance of the shad season on the Potomac 16,013 adult yellow perch were collected from fishermen's nets and placed in live cars, says Dr. Hugh M. Smith, the commissioner. In the short space of time between March 29 and April 7 they produced 152,,235,000 eggs, of which 3,640,000 were used for exhibition purposes at the central station in Washington, and of the remainder, 137,101,000 were planted in theterritory which constitutes the principal breeding places of the species.

The catch of shad in the Potomac River in 1915 decreased 11 per cent from 1909, the latest previous year for which statistics were available. There were similar decreases all along the line, the catch in Maryland decreasing 50 per cent in size and 29 per cent in value.

The PABLO MILWAUKEE New
Temperance Drink
PABLO
"You Can't Tell the Difference."
That is what they all say regarding Pablo, the new non-alcoholic beverage we are now offering to the trade.
Pablo is an unfermented beverage does not contain malt and is absolutely non-alcoholic. It is not a near-beer and should not be confused with the many so-called temperance drinks now being marketed that are really nothing more than fermented malt beverages, with a percentage of the alcohol extracted, the sale of which is liable to be accompanied by risk of prosecution.
Wherever Pablo has been introduced it has met with almost instant favor and popularity, proving to be a good repeater. As compared with other soft drinks, Pablo is in a class by itself—a drink with character and snap to it. It is of a sparkling amber color and has that pleasing hop tang that is a never-failing, never-tiring delight to the taste and which at the same time makes it a refreshing healthful and invigorating beverage.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Japanese battle cruiser Tsukuba was sunk yesterday in the harbor at Yokosuka by an explosion of her magazine, caused by fire. More than 100 men were killed or injured.

There will be no more sensational trials of Harry Kendall Thaw if his mother can prevent it. The Thaw family has decided that even should he be extradited to New York they will seek to have him incarcerated in a sanitarium, rather than have him go on trial again. They have reached the conclusion that such a course would be better for Thaw himself.

The stranded cruiser Milwaukee, whose crew was taken off safely Saturday night, was washed farther toward shore near Eureka, Cal., yesterday. As the hull continued to fill with water hope of salving the vessel faded. Navy salvagers have abandoned efforts to save the battleship H-3, which the Milwaukee was trying to pull off the beach when the big ship was washed ashore.

Weldon H. Wells, former Kansas City broker's clerk, last night confessed to County Prosecutor in Columbus, Ohio, that he shot and killed Mona Byron Simon in a room in a hotel here last Thursday night. His statement, according to the authorities, says he killed the girl in self-defense. Wells, who was arrested in Huntington, Ind., early Saturday morning, arrived at Columbus last night in the custody of local police.

Germany is now willing to state, openly, and clearly, the terms upon which she will end the war in Europe, if President Wilson requests her to, according to apparently authentic information in Washington last night. Official German sources declared that despite the harshness of the demands made by the allies, Germany would undoubtedly take every step possible to meet any demands which the President might make upon her. It was admitted in diplomatic circles that upon the attitude of Germany must depend the success or failure of President Wilson's next move.

North and central Texas last night were in the grip of a storm which had assumed almost blizzard proportions. Dallas is covered by a -inch snowfall, an almost unprecedented occurrence. Children, virtually sledless, through successions of mild winters, rose to the unusual opportunity and commandered old rocking chairs, upon which they scooted in grotesque curves through the city streets. Wire service is impaired and trains are running hours behind schedules.

The capture of two submarines is reported in an announcement from the Italian war office. The statement follows: "The enemy submarine V. C. 12, which the German navy ceded to Austria-Hungary, has fallen into our hands, and become a unit of our torpedo squadrons. Another enemy submarine, the V. T. 12, belonging to the Austro-Hungarian navy, also is in our possession.

"Richmond can add $500,000 to her revenues in the next year from one source alone, if the city will place a tax of at least 50 cents on each package of liquor that come into the city," was the announcement made Saturday by Administrator John Hirschberg, speaking of the deficit as to funds for permanent improvements which the city faces.

LEGAL NOTICES

At a Circuit Court of the City of Alexandria, continued and held at the Courthouse of said City on Friday, January 12th., 1917.

An affidavit having been duly made, as required by law, that the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Virginia, and that she cannot be found within the jurisdiction of this State and the sergeant having made a return upon the original process or summons issued herein that the defendant is a non-resident of his bailwick, and application having been duly made in writing in open Court for an order of publication against the said defendant to appear and answer a bill in chancery, filed by the complainant against the defendant for an absolute divorce on the grounds of wilful and voluntary desertion and abandonment for more than three years prior to the institution of this suit, and an order of publication having been duly granted in open Court, it is therefore ordered that said defendant do appear here within 15 days after due publication hereof to answer the suit of complainant against the defendant for an absolute divorce on the grounds of wilful and voluntary desertion and abandonment for more than three years prior to the institution of this suit, and to do what may be necessary to protect her interest in this suit. WORLD ENLIGHTENED.

Swiss Paper Likens Entente Note to Statue of Liberty.

Geneva, Jan. 15—President Wilson rendered a great service to the Entente Allies by transmitting his peace note to the belligerents, in the opinion of the Journal de Geneve. It says Europe was under the impression that the peace offer of the Central Powers had been rejected by their adversaries, but that it is now plain that Germany expressed a desire for peace without disclosing terms, whereas the Entente has explained its conditions with all clearness, and the world is now awaiting Germany's reply.

La Suisse says the reply of the Allies to President Wilson, like the Statue of Liberty, enlightens the world.

La Revue, of Lausanne considers that the President's act, although premature, has had a good effect, in that it has permitted the Allies to make known to the world why they are continuing the war.

DIES IN A TRESTLE TRAP.

Mill Girl, Wedged Between Ties, is Terribly Mangled.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 15.—In company with Blanche Young and Elsie Leonard, Florence Roberts, 23, was hurrying to work at a silk mill Thursday morning, taking a short-cut over the trestle that approaches the wire mill, when a shifting train came along.

Miss Young beat the train off the bridge, while Miss Leonard climbed down the trestle toward the waters of the Little Lehigh.

The Roberts girl fell between the ties and was wedged there. The engineer, high up on the monster locomotive, did not see her, and she was ground to death under the wheels, her body being terribly mangled.

NARROWLY ESCAPED HANGING.

Thomas T. Wall, Who Has Just Died, Once Sentenced by General Sheridan.

Winchester, Va., Jan. 15.—Thomas T. Wall, 74 years old, for many years a prominent Winchester merchant, who died on Thursday night in Memorial Hospital, was sentenced to be hanged by General Phil Sheridan during the Civil War, but finally was saved by the intercessions of women of the town. He was employed as a clerk in the Winchester post-office, which was in charge of Federal officials, and once when the town was in the hands of the Northern troops young Wall was arrested by order of Sheridan, charged with conveying secret information to the Confederates.

He was given a military trial and sentenced to be hanged. Women of the town interceded in his behalf, with the result that Sheridan, after reconsidering the case, had the verdict set aside, but had Wall placed on a mule and taken outside the Federal lines to Martinsburg, W. Va., with a warning never to return. Mr. Wall later rendered good service to the Confederate army by carrying mail through the Shenandoah Valley from Confederate soldiers to their loved ones at home. This was a particularly dangerous mission, as discovery meant death.

Mr. Wall belonged to an old Winchester family, and for many years was engaged in the book and stationery business. He leaves one sister, Mrs. James W. Barr, of Winchester.

BOYS FOR DEATH CHAIR.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—Adhering to precedents and declining to be swayed by public clamor, the State Board of Pardon in special session here declined also to make recommendations for clemency in any of the four murder cases continued from the December meeting.

Rehearings were refused Henry Ward Mottern and Ernest Haines, the boy murderers, each 17, from Jefferson county, whose applications for rehearing were argued last month after the board had refused to recommend commutation of the death sentence during the fall. Mottern and Haines were convicted of murdering Haines' father.

Few cases in recent months have attracted as much attention as the Jefferson county boys' applications, numerous letters, telegrams and petitions having been received by members of the board, including many at their homes.

John N. Presgraves, a native of Loudoun county, died suddenly in Washington Saturday.

Georgetown Lady Had Been In Poor Health for Years

Relates How "Dreco" Restores Her. Has No More Gas or Sour Stomach. Is Stronger and Sleeps Well.

"Twenty-five per cent of our educated people die from ignorance," is the recent statement of a noted scientist. "Although paradoxical, the truth of this statement is significant especially with respect to those who live in the cities."

Washington may be taken as an apt illustration that will apply to American cities in general, where there is a constant bustle and strife to earn a living, to make a fortune, or excel in any line of endeavor. The grind whether of physical labor, mental toils or the exactions of society, tells upon the nerves of the human structure. The pace is too fast and far astray from the simple plan of nature. After a wide search Dreco was discovered, which is a combination of plants, from the juices of which is extracted a tonic which has proven to be the greatest of all known remedies for the stomach, liver, kidneys, and blood. This is now widely known on account of its reviving and reconstructing powers, which is so noticeable that the user finds himself infused with new life and energy as if by magic.

Daily, Dreco, is obtaining converts in Washington, which is attested by the signed statements of people who have given it a fair trial. For instance the testimonial of Mrs. Mary Oman, of 3239 P street, Georgetown, a well-known and popular lady, stated, "For a long time I have suffered with gas forming in my stomach, belching, and sourness. I was losing my strength and could not sleep well. I suffered a great deal and dreaded to sit down to the table. Three bottles of Dreco have made a different person of me, I am much stronger, sleep well, and the gas does not bother me any more. I heartily recommend Dreco.

N. B. C. GRAHAM CRACKERS

You don't have to coax the children to eat plenty of N. B. C. Graham Crackers. These are not only rich in the nourishment that builds bone and muscle, but their tempting taste makes the little appetites hungry for more.

N. B. C. Graham Crackers added an individuality and nut-like flavor that other graham crackers lacked. This makes them an almost universally popular article of everyday diet.

Killed in a Hotel.

The shooting of Samuel W. Taylor a printer, at the Sterling Hotel, Washington, Saturday night by J. B. Ragland, also a printer, of Danville, Va., will be investigated by Coroner Nevitt, who will hold an inquest this afternoon. According to the story told by Ragland, he had been a guest of the Sterling Hotel several days. He said that Saturday night he was accosted on the street by Taylor and made friends with the stranger, when he told him that he was a printer. The two went about the streets together, taking an occasional drink. He said that when Taylor told him that he had nowhere to sleep he invited him to share his bed at the hotel. The pair went to the hotel and directly to his room. Ragland said that some time after he had been asleep he was awakened by Taylor attempting to assault him. He said he ordered Taylor to dress and leave the room, and when Taylor suddenly turned on him, as if to clutch him by the throat, he picked up his pistol, lying on the table, and fired one shot at Taylor, who collapsed and fell back into a chair and died before medical aid could reach him.

MORE RELIGION IN FRANCE.

Jean A. Picard, of Paris,, Tells Church Audience of War's Results.

France is becoming more religious on account of the war, Jean A. Picard, of Paris, France, told the congregation at the Church of the Covenant, Washington, yesterday afternoon.

"France, in its solemn thoughts is forever turning more to the spiritualistic, and the new generation of 'La Patrie' is turning more to the churches," he said. He spoke of the heroic sacrifices being made by the clergy at the front. Many are chaplains, but a greater number have donned the uniform and are beside their fellows under fire.

Mr. Picard came to Washington on a tour he is making of Eastern cities, in which he is speaking to acquaint Americans with the French point of view of this war. He was on the firing line through two years of war, but being ill of rheumatism from standing in trench water days at a time, he was retired.

It is reported by a correspondent arriving from Amsterdam that on the occasion of Emperor William's forthcoming birthday anniversary (he will be 58 years old on January 27), Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary, King Ferdinand of Bulgaria and the Turkish heir apparent wil go to Berlin to attend the birthday anniversary celebration, and that while they are there the three rulers and the Turkish representative will issue a minfesto to the world, placing responsibility on the entente for continuation of the war. The Sultan of Turkey will not attend the celebration on account of his advanced age.

Bill for woman's suffrage, sanctioned by the woman's suffrage organizations of the State, was introduced in the House, as was a measure providing for a State highway commission, which is said to meet the conditions imposed by the Federal Government in giving aid for State roads.

The Prohibition bill, if enacted into law, will prohibit the manufacture, sale, gift, advertisement or transportation of intoxicants after September 1, 1917, with a few exceptions. Penalties are provided for violations of the law.

SAY HE STARVED HIS SON

Father is Arrested, Accused of an Atrocious Murder.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—Harry Miller, father of Clayton Miller, was arrested Thursday morning charged with the murder of the son. It is alleged that young Miller, a hopeless invalid, was starved to death.

When the body of the youth was turned over to an undertaker, he notified Coroner Eckinger that rumors were afloat that the invalid, who was bedfast for five years, had not been given proper nourishment for several months. An investigation was ordered, and when the boy's stomach was examined by Coroner's physicians, it was found empty.

FATALLY HURT IN SCHOOL.

Huntington Teacher Crushed In Elevator Shaft.

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 15.—Miss Alice Blanche Enslow, 56 years old, a teacher in the Huntington public schools for 40 years, died in a hospital Friday afternoon less than an hour after she was crushed between the high school elevator floor and the walls of the shaft. The elevator was started from above, it is said, just as Miss Enslow was entering. Paul Recker, a high school teacher, lacerated his hands in the effort to stop the elevator and save Miss Enslow.

The monitor Puritan, fired on at Rappahannock spit Monday by the battleship Oklahoma, which used experimental fourteen-inch shells, was sunk by the shells which struck her, and could not be brought back to the Norfolk navy yard by the tugs Hercules and Massasoit. Precaution had been taken to moor the Puritan in shallow water, and consequently sinking her did not mean her submergence. Before leaving Norfolk the Puritan was provided with a new protective deck designed to keep shell fragments from riddling her hull. Apparently this precaution did not suffice.

LOVE COMMANDMENTS.

Man Who Wed 8,000 in Thirty Years Has "Royal Road" to Bliss.

San Francisco, Jan. 15.—How to win a husband is told in the Rev. John H. Pierce's "ten commandments," for girls seeking the royal road to matrimony. The Rev. Pierce, who preaches at Oakland, has married 4,000 couples in thirty years. Here are his commandments.

Plan your campaign with the wisdom of the serpent, conceal it with the silence of the clam.

Avoid all witticsms about marriage

Veil with alluring helplessness the iron of self-sufficiency.

When a man declares "I shall never marry!" mark him for easy prey.

Be inwardly bold as a lion, outwardly timid as a fawn.

The loudest flattery is the silence of attention. When he speaks, listen.

Shun the rouge pot and the powder puff.

Pick out a chemical affinity. Remember, oil won't mix with water.

Copy the cat, for it is squeezable, and the dove, for it coos caressingly.

Remember that the supreme test of a man is a kiss. If he will not yield under its pressure, scorn him.

Despondent because she had lost $50,000 in the stock market after the recent peace note "leak," Miss Julia P. Snow, 39 years old, of Portland, Me., drank chloroform on the Charles River Bank, and died soon after being taken into St. Elizabeth's Hospital.
